- KK – We provided a site for lawful protest
  - Would like to do something similar to the pamphlet to CP10
  - We will want to note thanks for moving to the lawful protest site, noting the limitations and provide explanation to clarify at which point it becomes occupation vs lawful protest site
  - So just to acknowledge that and also the history behind
- GS – To add to that piece S/Sgt. Wiebe has been tasked to work with BB on that
- GS – Apparently one of the leaders form CP10, Pers[redacted], traveled through
  - He stayed for a bit and then left
  - Another gentleman came from SK and made what appears to be a cash donation
  - CCMG has advised reefer truck is running and substantially full of food, firewood pile very big; also large pot of cash on site, generator on site
  - Appears they're resourced to stay longer duration
- JF – - Regarding digging in for a long haul, in relation to the food truck that's there, are they cooking form that vehicle?
  - GS – yes, but more substantial is the full 53' trailer reefer truck that is full of food

  - GS - It's quite large/substantial – and is quite full
  - GS – They are totally playing by the rules but they're certainly looking at a long-term occupation
- TD – there are certainly tactical considerations
  - It's there now; do we keep it or look at putting that end date on there; it potentially could spark something
  - Worthy of a longer conversation; we could have a tactical conversation around that

  - We increased patrols of track inspections
  - No issues over the weekend
- EM – SJ or MM – are either of you on today? – (no)
- EM – BB any additional?

  - KK – clarity – that was the rolling stops to put together a cheat sheet to prevent big tractors form coming in – one of our members had something to add to that
  - Basically tractors were to be field to field when in transport on highway; seeking clarity or more about that
- KK – s.37 [redacted] – we were wondering if were would be able to access that public group
  - Part 6 – might be a different tier type of file
  - What happened in Edmonton, they were posting all over the place in public forums and s.37 [redacted], and what I wondered was, if it's in a public forum and there's an open invitation, are we good to join
- Solicitor-Client Priv. [redacted]

- BW – wondering if we could have a media to discuss open source, s.37 etc., there are some additional considerations identified, would like to discuss in an offline meeting
- ED – moving to round table

ROUND TABLE

- Ron Parker – ERT update provided
    - JF – are there other things we can peruse or avenues we should or need to pursue as a result?
    - RP - Aaron will have to comment further on that
- KK – investigative updates and planning meeting is upcoming with DH and his team
    - We will need to talk to NS also in terms of what information we make public
    - JS – in terms of what to make public, agree it's something we need to contemplate – it does potentially indicate the level of commitment to this group
- LM - There are some conversations to have there
    - KK – will send an invite for you to join us
        - LM – DH has already sent it my way
- EM – Any further comments or questions for round table?
- SR – One quick comment – can I just confirm Coutts POE is open, no issues?
    - GS – Ports are very happy – no issues, wide open
- JF – Brad, just give me 10 minutes and I will come down and join you in the room for the separate meeting

1133 hrs

- KK – recommend setting up a meeting tomorrow
    - On the weekend, info received that protestors are trying to garner support for something in throne speech in Edmonton –
- JF – perhaps a consideration in terms of group to include in that meeting tomorrow;
- Really all we have there is that small group at the legal protest site
- TD – GS is staying; I'm heading out tomorrow
- JF – we are going to have a conversation tomorrow
- Ed – let's not plan tomorrow for Coutts, but if something comes over the next couple of say, we can reach out then
